An Expansion and Bettermet Sale Begins This Week----- H Vast Mercantile Movement With a Host of Remarkable Values.

We must have more room-Our fast increasing trade demands it-So we have decided to remove our large Dress Making Department, which now occupies half the floor space on the second floor of our building, to beautiful and new quarters on the third floor. We will tear down all the fixtures on the second floor and construct a large addition to the Cloak, Suit and Upholstery Departments, The entire second floor must be turned over to the contractors in two weeks. This means that the stock contained in the Cloak Roem, including Cloth Suits, Separate Skirts, Shirt Waists, Shirt Waist Suits, Infants' Dresses, Furs Drap nied, Curtains and Upholstery Goods of all sorts, must be moved out and that space elsewhere in the etore must be encroached upon. We propose to reduce our inconvenience to a minimum by promptly closing out a large part of the stocks affected

At Prices Chat Are In Many Cases Far Below Usual Wholesale Cost.

The entire second floor will be re-arranged. The departments will have brigh new fixtures, and in most case, new locations. These changes will affect some of our very larges and most important stocks, and these stocks are to be reduced in volume as much as possible in anticipation of the general re-adjustment of space and location. Beginning to-morrow therefore we will begin a great merchandise movement which, for want of a more excessive title, we shall call "an expansion and Betterment Sale." For expansion of space compels the rebuilding, and the better serving of our customers will be attended by the re-adjustment of the second floor departments. The sale will be an event of interest to every one of our customers and to the public generally. Every department will have something to offer far under value. Some of the lots perhaps will be too small to advertise. It will be well to come and look through the

GOOD STUFF: - VanHook, James E. None better. For medical use they are sacks.

Samuel M. Tudor, one of the prominent attorneys at the Lexington bar, was sent to jail Friday by Judge Parker for contempt of court. Mr. Tudor, in response to a summons, appeared before the grand jury that afternoon, and during his examination he was asked several questions in regard to gambling houses in the city. He refused to answer any questions on this point, and the foreman of the grand jury appealed to Judge Parker. The foreman stated to the court that he had asked Mr. Tudor whether he had seen any crap games in operation in that city, and that the attorney had refused to answer the question. Mr. Tudor stated to the court that he was the attorney for several of the alleged gambling offenders, and that whatever knowledge he might have as to the existence of gambling was gained by him in a professional way, and he did not believe that he should be required to answer the question asked by the foreman of the grand jury. Judge Parker said that he did not believe being an attorney would excuse the witness from answering questions, and he would therefore commit him to jail unless the question was answered. Attorney Tudor held out for his rights, and he was therefore taken to jail by Deputy Jailer Ahearn.

Perdicaris and Varley, Held For Ransom, Released.

The Former is Much Fatigued-They Suffered Many Hardships While in the Hands of Raisuli and His Band.

Tangier, June 25 .- Ion Perdicaris, an American, and Cromwell Varley, an Englishman, who were captured by the bandit Raisuli, have just arrived here. Perdicaris is very much fatigued after his long ride, but says he is glad to get back. He is greatly pleased with the reception accorded him by the townsmen who met him in great numbers.

Perdicaris suffered many hardships while in the hands of Raisuli, although he says he does not think that these were the fault of the bandit chief and that he had every comfort possible under the circumstances. Varley appears to be as cheerful and bright as if he had just returned from a picnic. Both Perdacaris and Varley are much thinner, especially the former, who has aged considerably.

Perdicaris was received at his town house by the authorities, the admirals of the fleets and numerous personal friends. His Moorish servants made a great demonstration of joy, kissing their master's hands and clothes.

Much credit is due to the two shereefs of Wazan, Mulai Ali and Mulai Hamet, who have devoted much time in their efforts to secure the success of the negotiations. Mulai Ali remained at Raisuli's camp continuously, thus ensuring the safety of the lives of the captives, while Mulai Hamet traveled back and forth between Tangier and Benaires.

Mulai Hamet says he arrived at the camp of Selai, governor of the Reni M'sara tribe at 3 o'clock on June 23, but that the captives did not arrive until the morning of June 24.

Nothing unusual occurred during the exchange of the prisoners, who started immediately for their respective homes. The delay in turning over the prisoners was apparently merely a mistake as to the date set for their release.

Washington, June 25 .- Vice Consul General Philip, whose station is at Tangier, is still at Fez, the state department is informed, where he has remained in communication with the sultan and the department is advised that he will stay there until the captives are returned to their homes.

Adm. Chadwick, commanding the American fleet at Tangier, was advised by cable Friday that his course in connection with the Perdicaris incident has met the approval of the department.

AN ARTIFICIAL RISE.

Effort to Be Made to Create a Coal Barge Stage in the Kanawha.

Charleston, W. Va., June 25 .- One million and sixty-eight thousand bushels of coal were locked through lock 11 Thursday and Friday. Every towboat available was sent to the mouth of the river Friday night to await an artificial rise planned by the government officials. The rise in the Ohio will not be enough to float the coal barges so either Saturday or Sunday every pool above dams No. 6 to 11 will be drained to create the necessary stage in the Ohio. It is estimated to the southern markets.

Attempted to Kill a Woman and Fell to Death From a Window.

Detroit, Mich., June 25.—A small private office in a suite on the eleventh floor of the chamber of commerce building, at the corner of Griswold and State streets, was Friday the scene of a most thrilling tragedy, when Charles A. Swayze, an insurance agent, fought with Miss Effie Alvord for several minutes in an attempt to throw her cut of the window, then shot her twice and plunged himself from the window to the brick pavement of State street, being almost instantly killed Miss Alvord was shot twice in the neck and badly beaten about the head and face by Swayse, but her physician said Friday night that she is not dangerously hurt. Every bone of Swayse's body below his neck was broken by his fall of 165 feet.

Back of the tragedy lies a tale of intimacy between Miss Alvord and Swayse, who was 51 years of age, mar. ried and the father of two young daughters. Both Miss Alvord and Swayse were for several years, prior to November, 1902, employed at the house of correction here, Swayse as deputy superintendent, and the woman as a matron. In a letter found on Swayse's body he charged that the woman tempted him while hey were Their intimacy resulted, Superintend-

Angry words were heard, then a struggle and screaming. Next, several shots were fired and employes of the office broke in the door. The women' screams were heard on the street, and her companion, Terry, had hurried up in the elevator and arrived in time to be the first man to rush into the room. Miss Alvord lay on the flor, her clothing torn, blood running from the bullet wounds in her neck and her hair down and disheveled. The window was open, and through it could be seen Swayse's face above the window ledge, to which he was clinging with his hands. The face was there only a moment. Then the hands slipped across the ladge, and Swayse was hurling down through the air to his death. admirals. Weakness in Wickedness.

In such a world as this, with such hearts as ours, weakness is wickedness in the long run. Whoever lets himself be shaped and guided by anything lower than an inflexible will, fixed in obedience to God, will in the end be shaped into a deformity and guided to wreck and ruin.-Alexander McLaren.

Rat Meat.

In an article on the eating of rats and mice the London Medical press asserts that, "apart from prejudice, there is no particular reason why we should not feed on our domestic rodents." The editor seems to have the courage of his convictions, for he adds: "Their flesh is delicate and savory."

TWO STEPS.

The Last One Helps the First.

A sick coffee drinker must take two steps to be rid of his troubles and get strong and well again. The first is to cut off coffee absolutely.

That removes the destroying element. The next step is to take liquid food (and that is Postum Food Coffee) that has in it the elements nature requires to change the blood corpuscles from pale pink or white to rich red, and good red blood builds good strong and healthy cells in place of the broken down cells destroyed by coffee. With well- boiled Postum Food Coffee to shift to, both these steps are easy and pleasant. The experience of a Georgian proves how important both

HATERS OF AARON BURR.

Tradition in the Family of a Man Visitor at the Grave of Alexander Hamilton.

"When Burr parted from my grandfather he told him he would send him some money for his trouble, but he never did. My grandfather wrote to Burr about it some time after the incident, but Burr never answered him.

"When Blennerhasset was a ruined man my grandfather, then a mere lad, cursed Burr for his course. When he heard that Burr had killed Hamilton in if he could ever get to him While Burr was on trial in Richmond my grandfather made a trip there for the purpose of carrying out his threat. Such a scalp is cheap at $12 or $15 to the rancher, for the gray robber would certainly have destroyed many times that value in valves or colts from the range. Yet in spite of all the warfare made upon them, and all the prices put upon their heads, these dreaded, mysterious, ghostlike, terror inspiring creatures still hold their own. Outcasts for ages, hated, persecuted, they still endure, each for himself, and without a friend on earth, even among his own kind. Last year the state of Minnesota paid over $6,000 a month in the best of the wolf season. One day of the month of last March the state auditor paid $6,-158.50 in wolf bounties. The total for the few months preceding was $36,548.50. On this basis the current year will foot up nearly as much as the two years preceeding, which appears to indicate that Brother Wolf is holding his own, even as a matter of commerce. Kent J. Loomis Disappeared at Plymouth, Eng.

The Possibility That Some Harm May Have Befallen Him After Landing at Plymouth Is Hinted at By the Officials.

London, June 27 .- The whereabouts of Kent J. Loomis, brother of the American assistant secretary of state, Francis B. Loomis, who disappeared shortly before or after the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamer Ohio river where Aaron Burr played it Kaiser Wilhelm II. at Plymouth, June low down on Blennerhasset. My grand- 20, remains in the same state of doubt

Officials who are investigating the ease say there is no truth in the report that Loomis turned up in Paris Saturday

Paris, June 27 .- Not a word was received Sunday regarding the whereabouts of Kent. J. Loomis, brother of Francis B. Loomis, American assistant secretary of state, who disappeared shortly before or after the arrival of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II., at Plymouth, June a duel he swore that he would kill Burr 20. Although midnight Sunday marks a week since the disappearance of Mr. Loomis, the officials still cling to the belief that he will turn up when the effects of his abstraction have worn off. The belief is due to a careful deduction from the series of circumstances related by W. J. Ellis, his companion on board the steamer, and by Gustave Flamm, of San Francisco, who was a fellow passenger. This process of deduction practically excludes the theory of foul play on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II., and also excludes the likelihood that Mr. Loomis fell overboard. It leads to the acceptance of Mr. Flamm's statement that he saw Mr. Loomis get off at Plymouth.

Accordingly, a minutely circumstancial description of Mr. Loomis has been forwarded to Joseph Stephens, American consul at Plymouth. Although thus satisfied that Mr. Loomis was not lost from the Kaiser Wilhelm II., the officials foresee the possibility that some harm may have befallen him after he landed at Plymouth. However, they consider this possibility rather remote, but, nevertheless, complete absence of clews after a week of continued efforts to find Mr. Loomis makes the case one of increasing mystery.

Garnishee Law Changed.

Of interest to merchants is the new garnishee bill which was passed by the ast Legislature and which became a law ast week without the Governor's signature. The bill repeals the provision of Section 1701, Kentucky Statutes, which with reference to exceptions from attachment reads: "Provided, That the exemption of fifty dollars shall not apply to debts contracted for food, fuel, medicine, raiment or house rent for the family." Under the old law the wages of a person, earning less than $50 a month, were not subject to attachment unless for food, rainment, fuel, etc. Now the exemption for debts of that character is the same : s the exemption for any other debts. Under the present law unless a person earns Paris, Kentucky. more than $50 a month his wages eannot be attached for any debt.

"Another!" he thought, wearily, as he raised his head from the ledger. The look of impatience vanished at the sight of the slender young figure of a girl presumably 19 years of age, who stood before him. Her face was fair and delicately pink. A big, broadbrimmed hat rested on a head crowned by shining, reddish-brown time?" hair, and the eyes that harmonize with such hair looked appealingly up at him.

he asked, skeptically. "I sew. But I don't like it. I want to try out of door work."

"Well, be careful," he advised, as he went out to the wagon with her. He noted approvingly the neat, well-fitting gingham dress and, as she climbed into the wagon, he had a fleeting glimpse of a slender foot and a shapely ankle.

He watched the wagons of merry makers drive away.

"They seem to think it's a picnic." he thought, grimly. "They'll not be so gingery when they come in tonight, I'm thinking."

Although Myra Cole was one of the first to enter, she stepped aside to let the others receive their payment. When the ranks finally began to thin Waldo looked up to see why she did not come to his desk. To his amazement she had vanished.

"I suppose she was in a hurry to dress for the dance," he mused, with a shudder at the thought of that refined maiden attending such a dance. Although an employe had been broken into the work of starting the "kindergarten" Waldo appeared at the scene of action the next morning. She was there, as sweet and dainty as he had pictured her. She came up to

In an instant she had given way to the jostling, eager children and was gone from his sight. Everything went wrong with Waldo that day, and he didn't go at night to pay off the "brats," but sent the cashier. In the evening he found himself on Twelfth street. He didn't plan to call-only to walk past No. 415. This, however, he was unable to do, as there was no such number. She was utterly lost to him unless she came to weed again.

The next morning was Sunday and when he picked up the Times he was interested and amused to read a bright, snappy article headed "A Day With the Beetweeders." Over his heart he had worked a conventional figure of an altar, with a cross superimposed. This he said was an antinganting. On his right breast was a human heart, inverted, surmounted by a cross, with three letters above it. When asked what particular brand of antinganting this was he only grinned the wider. It is believed that this fantastic design is the reminder of some vow that he took during the insurrection. Three more letters and a cross were tattooed in the bollow of his back. He said that these were never known to fail to keep off diseases, and, indeed, it must be confessed that he seemed to be an extraordinary healthy animal.

Then there were long disarrangements of the alphabet across his breast and all down his arms. They looked as if somebody had attempted to write a lot of seditious newspaper headlines in Tagalog and had run short of copy paper, and so had used Gomez for a writing tablet. He explained that these would keep off bullets, and they looked as if they would.

Roland, Ill., June 27 .- Diabetes has so long been looked upon as an incurable form of Kidney Disease that a sure cure for it must rank as one of the most valuable medical discoveries of the age. Mr. Norman says:

WHY HOT WEATHER MAKES WOMEN NERVOUS.

A Well Known Canadian Lady Sends Letter of Endorsement to Pe-ru-na.

excellent medicine. I had been troubled narcotic nature. with stomach trouble and poor digestion At this seaso Mary Burns.

Suggestions by Dr. Hartman. -- How to Combat the Nervous Depression Incident to Warm Weather.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anaemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoir for nerve vitality. These centers become bloodless for the want of proper nutrition.

This condition is especially noticeable during the warm season. Every summer an army of invalids are produced as a direct result of weak nervous systems. This could easily be overcome by the use of Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the trouble by correcting the digestion. Perfect digestion furnishes increased nutrition for the nerve centers. Perfectly digested food gives these reservoirs of life a vitality which creates strong, steady nerves, and in this man-ner fortifies and nourishes life.

Miss Blanche Grey, a prominent young society woman of Memphis, Tenn., in a recent letter from 174 Alabama street, writes: "To a society woman whose nervous force is often taxed to the utmost from lack of rest and irregular meals, I know of nothing which is of so much benefit as Peruna.
